UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

COLONEL ROBERT S. GREEN

Colonel Robert S. Green is Commander, Phillips Research Site, and Materiel Wing Director, Space Vehicles Directorate, Air Force Research Laboratory, Air Force Materiel Command, Kirtland Air Force Base, N.M. He leads a team of 941 military, civilian, and on-site contractors who comprise the nation's "Center of Excellence" for military space science & technology, research & development, as well as advanced technologies integration and demonstration. His organization manages a total annual budget of approximately $378 million focused on the mission thrusts of space-based command, control, communications, intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance; responsive space; and counterspace.

Previously, Colonel Green was Commander, Defense Contract Management Agency Seattle, which consists of 275 personnel responsible for the acquisition life cycle contract management of weapon system programs, spares, supplies and services. This included on time delivery at the right cost and in accordance with performance standards for over 9,000 contracts valued at over $3 billion in 11 states.

Colonel Green entered the Air Force as a distinguished graduate of the U.S. Air Force Academy in 1984. His career includes assignments at Air Force laboratories, major aeronautics and space system program offices, and managing training technology at Air Force Education and Training Command. He also served as Assistant Professor of Aeronautical Engineering at the U.S. Air Force Academy.

Prior to the Defense Contract Management Agency, Colonel Green was a Senior Exercise Analyst on The Joint Staff, J-7. In this assignment, he was a program manager for the Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff Exercise Program. He worked extensively with combatant commands, U.S. federal agencies, and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies to develop, execute, and evaluate strategic level exercises.
